Stevens Puppets

BRINGING FAIRY TALES AND LITERATURE TO LIFE
— SINCE 1933 —

Presents "The Wizard of Oz"

Lions and tigers and puppets, oh my! In this marionette puppet production of the classic, heart-warming tale of "The Wizard of Oz," adapted by Stevens Puppets, beautifully hand-carved marionette puppets set against colorfully, hand-painted scenery, bring this tale to life on a magnificently fanciful stage. The musical score that accompanies this theatrical production will have audiences humming all the way home.

This theatrical production lasts approximately 45 minutes and includes a 5 minute marionette demonstration after the show.

Background: Dan Raynor has been with Stevens Puppets for over 20 years and currently owns the theatre company. Dan came from a live theatre background of acting and directing professionally. Dan holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Theatre. Dan has taught theatre at the Northwest Arkansas Academy of Fine Arts and directed professionally for theatres in several states, including televised events in California. He has performed with and directed many professional musicians like Neil Young and Huey Lewis, as well as acting professionally with many theatre companies in California. In addition to performing on stage as an actor and dancer
